Memorandum of Conversation with Lt. Col. [REDACTED]
Chief, General Instruction Department, [REDACTED]

1. At the instigation of the JCS, ACSI will in the very near future launch a two-week orientation course for general officers from Allied countries. The course would concentrate on (1) world-wide communist penetration and subversion; (2) methods required to prevent the spread of communism; (3) methods necessary to eliminate communism. It would be put on regularly, perhaps monthly or bimonthly, for small round-table groups from the same general area.

2. The CO of the Army Intelligence Center at Ft. Holabird has been assigned the responsibility. The chances are better than even that he will assign the task to SIS in Washington rather than the Army Intelligence School at Ft. Holabird. SIS, in turn, can do it only with CIA support. In exchange for that support there is a distinct possibility that we may be offered an opportunity--probably a slot for a course administrator--

3. This information is the result of an informal conversation with Lt. Col. [REDACTED] who is a strong friend of the Agency. If we are officially approached on this, it will be at the highest levels.
